and easy way to find AmeriCorps national service opportunities that are suited to your particular skills, interests, and circumstances.

Questions?

Call 1-800-942-2677 or submit a help request

The simplest advanced search involves three steps: selecting the issue area (or areas) of interest to you; selecting one or more geographic area where you would be interested in serving; and clicking the "Search" button.

To narrow down your search further, you have the option of entering additional information about yourself before clicking the "Search" button, such as the particular program you would like to participate in, any specialized skills you might have, and whether you are looking for full time, part time, or summer service opportunities. These optional questions appear toward the right side of the search form.

Clicking the "Search" button will take you to a listing of opportunities that fit the criteria you entered, including: the name and a brief description of the organization offering the position; the AmeriCorps program - State and National, VISTA or NCCC - that the opportunity is connected with; the start date of the service; and the location of the service opportunity. Further help on this Advanced Search page can be found by clicking here.

Links from the page will take you directly to a detailed description of the available position, as well as to an online application form. Remember, though, that to apply for a position, you must first create a profile. But don't worry - if you apply for an opportunity but haven't created a profile yet, you will still be asked to create one as part of the application process.

4. Select the following in the search criteria

Florida Conservation Corps (FLCC)

The Florida Conservation Corps (FLCC) program is administered by the Florida Department of Environmental Protection Florida Park Service with members serving at state parks throughout Florida. Members serving under FLCC Project A.N.T. (AmeriCorps Nonnative Plant Terminator) focus on habitat restoration through the management of invasive exotic plants. Members help to reduce invasive exotic plant infestations through various land management techniques and by recruiting volunteers from the community to help with this important restoration effort. Educating park visitors about the importance of Florida's ecosystems and issues of invasive exotic plants is also an important piece. Project A.N.T. members also assist with making trail improvements including maintaining trails for visitor use, developing trail interpretive and informational materials and conducting assessments of trail user accessibility and environmental impact. You will not be able to specify your preferred placement at this time. Once you submit your application, if you are selected for a pre-screening, program staff will contact you to determine your preferred placements. At that point, you will be able to indicate which state park placement is your first, second, and third choice.

part of Project A.N.T. (AmeriCorps Non-native plant Terminators) focus on invasive exotic plant management and trail improvement in Florida's state parks. Members spend a majority of their time outdoors treating and removing invasive exotic plants, surveying for invasive exotic plants and performing trail improvements. Members use various techniques such as herbicide spraying and prescribed fire to reduce infestations. Members also recruit volunteers to assist with invasive exotic plant management, and educate park visitors and the local community about harm caused by invasive exotic plants. Additionally, Project A.N.T. members perform trail improvements by assisting with the maintenance of current trails, helping clear new trails, developing interpretive and informational materials and conducting trail user accessibility and environmental impact assessments. Service duties may as include disaster relief, and may result in deployment.
